

Paris, 19 December 2016

ROTATION OF THE CHAIRMANSHIP OF THE SYSTRA SUPERVISORY BOARD

In line with the now well-established tradition since 2010 of rotation between the RATP and SNCF, SYSTRA's two industrial shareholders, the Group's Supervisory Board confirmed on 15 December 2016 the appointment of Pierre Izard as Chairman of the Board. Elisabeth Borne is appointed Vice-Chairman.

Pierre Izard, Executive Vice-President for Systems and Technologies at SNCF, declared: "I would like to pay tribute to the work carried out by Elisabeth Borne and am delighted to be able to continue to support the growth of this wonderful engineering company that is SYSTRA. At a time where public transport is booming and product and services innovation accelerating, SYSTRA is in line with the ambitious growth plan drawn up with Pierre Verzat and his teams."

Guillaume Pepy, Chairman of the Executive Board of SNCF, will also continue to serve on the Supervisory Board.

About SYSTRA

The global leader in public transport infrastructure, SYSTRA (an engineering company owned by RATP and SNCF) has specialised in mass transit and rail since 1957. Its ambition is to serve emerging needs for collective and sustainable mobility throughout the world.

With a presence in 80 countries and almost 6,000 employees, SYSTRA manages over 3,000 contracts for high-speed systems, traditional rail lines, metros and tramways throughout the world.

Contact:

Axelle de Ladonchamps

Tel.: + 33 (0)1 70 98 44 26 adeladonchamps@systra.com

Press contacts:

Karène Arfaoui

+33 01 41 11 23 90

karene@oxygen-rp.com

